WE ARE DEVELOPING A NETWORK OF SERVICES

FOR YOUNG CHILDREN WITH HEALTH/SOCIAL DISABILITIES AND THEIR FAMILIES.

Early childhood intervention is a social service for families who have children with disabilities. That service comes in the form of a team of various specialists who visit the family in their home. The service supports parents during their child's crucial stages of development and supports the family in their social integration into society. Currently, we are in the process of establishing a service for the support of parental skills, especially for families from marginalized Roma communities.

- We supported the incorporation of the early childhood intervention into law, organised its financing, and started an expert discussion focused on the support of young children and families from socially disadvantaged environments.
- Since 2014 we have been behind the birth of 9 early childhood intervention centres across Slovakia.
- We initiated the constitution of an umbrella organisation which unites organisations operating in this area in Slovakia.
- We supported the creation of an accredited education system in early childhood intervention.

SUPPORT OF YOUNG PEOPLE

WITH DISADVANTAGES

Since 2018, in cooperation with ALTERNATÍVA – Centre of Independent Life, we have been putting into practice the Transitory Programme: From School to Life. In said programme, young people with social and health disabilities are accompanied on their path to independence to successfully handle the transition from school to working life.

- The programme is primarily designed for students and alumni of special schools and apprenticeship high schools.
- The programme supports these young people in the management of ordinary as well as critical life situations.
- Thus far we have supported and walked alongside 153 young people in the Banskobystrický Region, from which 72 have managed to find employment.
